Chairman's Statement

Autism Jersey has enjoyed another successful year, consolidating its position as the leading charity dedicated to autism in the Island. As you read this report you will see that the rapid rate of growth of the past decade has slowed, although the number of people that we support is higher than ever and continues to increase.

Quite remarkably, Autism Jersey has grown by around 50% in each of the past five years. This has put pressure on a small organisation and its people and was not sustainable. With this in mind, the trustees took a decision at the start of the year to pause for breath, address these 'growing pains' and prepare for the next phase of development.

You will see the impact of this approach reflected in Brendan Dowling's Treasurer's Report. Annual revenue growth has slowed to 14% over the past 12 months, but the net surplus for the year of £135,181 is our highest ever. This is a fantastic result and demonstrates once again that we are well on the road to financial sustainability.

"The number of people that we support is higher than ever and continues to increase"

This sound financial position, important though it is, tells only part of the story. The positive impact that Autism Jersey has on the community and the people that we support is much more critical. As you turn the pages of this report and read what Paul Sullivan and his team have done during the year, you will see the value of their contribution.

We have an excellent partnership with the Department of Health and Social Services and we continue to work closely with the States of Jersey on the Centre for Autism project. I remain confident that we will deliver this much-needed facility for the people of Jersey.

None of this would be possible without the support that we receive from so many people, far too numerous to name here, although we do acknowledge our major donors later in the report.

At the end of 2016 we said farewell to our Patron, His Excellency Sir John McColl, and Lady Genie McColl, both of whom have been strong supporters of Autism Jersey during their time in the Island. I am delighted to say that the new Lieutenant-Governor, Air Chief Marshal Sir Stephen Dalton, has agreed to become our new Patron and we look forward to involving him and Lady Dalton in our events.

Lastly, I would like to thank the staff, trustees and volunteers for their commitment, which has enabled Autism Jersey to navigate another year so successfully.

Chief Operations Officer's Report

In the last 12 months Autism Jersey has made a massive investment in the training of staff at all levels. Here are details of some of the training opportunities we have been able to provide alongside the Statutory and Mandatory training:

- Ask Autism: An online course, developed by people who have autism and produced by the National Autistic Society, is being undertaken by all front-line staff.
- Resilience training for the wider management team, including senior support workers and team leaders, 13 people in total.
- Advanced Certificate in Education, Autism, Adults at the University of Birmingham (two members of staff).
- Post-graduate Certificate in Education, Autism, Adults at the University of Birmingham (one member of staff).
- CMI Level 5 Diploma in Management (two members of the management team).
- CIPD Foundation Certificate in HR Practice (one member of the management team).
- We now have two licensed Maybo trainers who are able to provide 'breakaway' training to new and existing staff members.
- QCF Level 2 (two members of staff).
- Safeguarding Officer Training (two members of the management team).

This investment in training together with our evolving knowledge and understanding of autism demonstrates a desire from everyone associated with Autism Jersey to be recognised as being the best at what we do.

Our Supported Living services continue to go from strength to strength. The approach we have adopted of wherever possible reducing the hours of support we provide as an individual's independence grows is, I believe, an example of best practice.

The Short Breaks Service has consolidated and we are now able to provide a higher quality of service to families.

Chief Operations Officer's Report

We continue to have excellent working relationships with the States of Jersey, Community and Social Services, and the Education Departments.

The Jersey Adult Autism Service (JAAS) drop-in sessions, a joint venture with the States of Jersey, goes from strength to strength with members meeting every Tuesday afternoon at the St James Centre in St Helier.

The Adult Social Club and the Axis Group have merged and moved to Elim Rock Community Centre in St Saviour. The social club, which regularly has up to 25 members attending, provides opportunities for friendships to be developed in a safe and friendly environment.

In January we welcomed Jaclyn Le Crom to the team. Jaclyn, as Family Support and Befriending Services Manager, has made a significant impact on the organisation as you will see when you read her report.

"This investment in training demonstrates a desire from everyone associated with Autism Jersey to be recognised as being the best at what we do"

The Autism Jersey Boutique won the St Helier Christmas Window Display Award for the third time. The Boutique is (quite literally) the 'shop front' for Autism Jersey and a focal point in the local community.

In conclusion I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone associated with Autism Jersey for their continued and unswerving support.

Family Support Manager's Report

The holiday club runs at Easter and in the summer

35 FAMILIES SUPPORTED

IN THE FIRST THREE MONTHS OF THE YEAR

15 BEFRIENDERS MATCHED

WITH FAMILIES OR INDEPENDENT ADULTS

In the four months since I took up the post of Family Support and Befriending Services Manager in January 2017, we have been supporting 35 families. We have successfully widened our remit so that we can help families before diagnosis and we can include related conditions of autism spectrum disorder.

Family Day

In April we had the first family day of 2017 at the Merton Aquadome. Forty people attended for some or all of the Dip & Dine event. Feedback has been very positive and people were particularly pleased that they could bring their friends and family. We will hold more family days through the year.

Holiday Club

The Easter holiday club was held from 10-14 April. This year the club moved away from the Education Department and is now fully run by Autism Jersey. The holiday club supported nine children from mainstream schools. This year the club was promoted more widely and we welcomed three new families of children who attend different schools and who were new to the staff team. Again, feedback for the holiday club has been very positive.

Befriending

We currently have 15 befriender matches. By the end of June 2017 we will have five new befrienders ready to be matched to families and independent adults. Again, it is a much-needed and well-used service. We will be advertising for more befrienders and starting the training process again, our aim being to support as many families as possible by the end of the year, as we currently have a waiting list.

Family Support Manager's Report

Sibling Group

Our new sibling group is being re-established and will begin in summer 2017. This will be once a month on a Sunday based at Grands Vaux Youth Club. Children will also go out and about in the community. Our aims will be to give siblings the opportunity to join in with fun activities, meet others in a similar situation and also give siblings the chance to ask questions and find out more information about autism spectrum disorder.

Jaclyn Le Crom

Counselling Service

Eight clients attended 127 counselling sessions at Autism Jersey in the 12 months from 1 April 2016.

At their first counselling session all the clients were offered eight sessions with the option of having more should it be deemed helpful. The number of sessions attended varied from five to 36.

During 2016 it was decided that our counselling service should focus on supporting parents and carers of people presenting with ASD rather than offering support to people with ASD, who are more likely to require long-term assistance.

Completed feedback forms suggest the counselling service is meeting clients' needs and verbal feedback reveals that clients feel 'heard and understood' because the counsellor is also a qualified childcare practitioner who has experience of working with children with ASD. Autism Jersey is providing assistance which is not being provided by other agencies.

For example, several clients are receiving external advice to manage the challenges they face in dealing with their children's behaviour. However, they believe those professionals have little or no understanding of what it is like living with children who are on the autism spectrum. Often the challenging behaviour has wide-ranging effects on all members of the family and, in particular, on siblings, many of whom are frightened of the child or young person who has a diagnosis.

"Thank you so much for arranging for me to meet with Ruth. Sorry I find it so difficult but it is amazing to be able to have support from someone so kind and patient"

Fundraising Report

The annual JT Golf Day raised an awesome £20,000 in 2016

As they made their way through Gatwick, Barbara and her family were running late and asked for special services to help them through the queue with their eight-year-old son Kieran, who has autism, when she was met with the comment: 'He doesn't look autistic.'

Is there a look for autism? Kieran was getting distressed and not standing still. The staff were unhelpful and saying how busy they were, and Barbara said: 'Sorry, but I can't switch his autism off.'

Barbara's was just one touching story which we have told in the last year. It is one which reminds us why we are constantly raising awareness as well as funds.

Fundraising is essential to improve and extend services to support individuals and families affected by autism. April continues to be used as our main focus for events, when we encourage people to 'do something awesome for autism'. This year was no different, and we packed in everything from Dip at Dawn (a sea swim at Anne Port) on 1 April to abseiling at Mont Orgueil at the end of the month.

The awareness drive began when we held a supper evening at Cooper & Co at Castle Quay in March. There were two unexpected outcomes.

So impressed was Cooper's David Warr with the artwork and narrative presented by Juliet, an adult who Autism Jersey supports, that he offered her space in the coffee shop to display an exhibition, describing her as 'an extraordinary talent'. She in turn was delighted to achieve a dream and she has since had a piece selected for display in the CCA Galleries International Summer Exhibition.

Fundraising Report

The supper evening also saw another spin-off. Thanks to Jacob, a young man who Autism Jersey supports, singing the Rag'n'Bone Man song 'Only Human', it inspired a whole series on Facebook. Every week day in April, there was a contribution from members of staff, parents, young people who are on the spectrum, and teaching professionals.

Social media is becoming increasingly important to help spread awareness of what we do. We were delighted, on the eve of April 2017, to celebrate reaching 3,000 likes on our Facebook page. The start of the year also saw the launch of our redesigned website, www.autismjersey.org, the culmination of a lot of hard work behind the scenes and we must say a big thank you to Matt Chatterley at Codentia for his patience and assistance, and Steve Wellum and Danny Richardson for some great photographs.

The Easter Saturday Duck Race, which was kindly sponsored by Romerils, is now a firm fixture in the calendar. Hundreds of Islanders went to the Perquage to cheer on 1,400 yellow plastic ducks floating downstream. We were grateful to Condor Ferries, Tamba Park and Jersey Heritage for offering the main prizes.

Of course, fundraising continues throughout the year, and our JT Golf Day in particular is an important part of the calendar. In August 2016 the corporate players who enjoyed their day at La Moye Golf Club raised an awesome £20,000. Other successful events included Havre des Party at the Ommaroo Hotel, the Zombie Walk, Cyclocross and Balls of Steel.

The job of fundraising manager is challenging and rewarding in equal measure, and it will only get busier as we embark upon a capital campaign for the purpose-built centre for autism in Trinity. It never ceases to amaze me that people in Jersey continue to be so generous – from interns at Deutsche Bank raising £7,350 in a few months, to a 10-year-old girl raising £56 by selling her Easter crafts. The Blue Knights (an international law enforcement motorbike club) raised £1,000 over a weekend and Autism Jersey were one of the charities chosen by the Jersey Garrison – enthusiasts who dress up as Star Wars characters. They presented a cheque for £1,500.

We continue to have valued corporate partnerships with CPA Global, which has committed to donate £10,000 per year for three years. They were also kind enough

“With the support of Autism Jersey, there is hope. To go about my day with a member of my team enables me to not feel a freak, to feel a sense of pride in myself as I slowly learn to believe that I am worth it”

— Juliet

Fundraising Report

Deutsche Bank interns raised £7,350 over the summer to sponsor our much-needed gazebo to help us shelter from any weather at events. Rathbones Investment Managers have continued to support us, sponsoring a movie night at the Jersey Film Festival in Howard Davis Park and in 2017 they again supported our L'Etacq and Back beach walk by providing refreshments to walkers.

We secured a £500 bursary funded by RBC Wealth Management, which will enable a young woman with autism to study an Animal Behaviour course through the Open Study College. It is hoped that this will lead to a part-time job. We were delighted that the bursary will also be awarded in 2018 and 2019.

We are grateful to JT for continuing to sponsor our Golf Day and Ocorian for sponsoring Trek Morocco, which will take place in September.

Grant and trust donations in the past 12 months have included £30,000 from the Association of Jersey Charities and £15,000 from the Lloyds Bank Foundation. We would also like to thank our contributors overleaf, our personal and anonymous donors, and all the people who have volunteered their time or services.

Social Enterprise

The mobile phone project, kindly supported by Barclays, has been brought to a close. It successfully provided skills and employment opportunities to adults with autism as they worked on refurbishing unwanted mobile phones for resale or recycling. Those involved in the project found it increased their confidence and motivated them to learn new skills.

The equipment for the initiative was purchased by funds from the Barclays Community Awards and Barclays continued to give invaluable business support to the project.

Some phones were donated to the Jersey Women's Refuge and dozens of renovated phones, recycled by adults with autism in Jersey, are now being used in Kenya, the Gambia and Indonesia, having been donated to three charities: Jersken, Jersey Africa Projects and Yayasan Bintang Kidul.

AN AWESOME WAY TO BE REMEMBERED

Autism Jersey continues to improve services for adults and children who are on the autism spectrum. The demand for our support and our services is only going to increase and we need to prepare for that.

A gift in your will is a great way to continue your support for Autism Jersey. To find out more, go to autismjersey.org/legacies

Boutique Report

We are proud of the supportive, inclusive community that we have built in the Boutique. One of our volunteers told us that the Boutique is the one place she feels truly happy and able to be herself. We have a wonderful, hardworking, loyal team of approximately 22 volunteers. The team collectively volunteer a phenomenal 4,000 hours per year.

Our team of volunteers currently includes seven people who are on the spectrum. It is important for us to be able to offer meaningful work experience to those who are on the pathway to employment, as well as the social opportunities with routine and purpose that come from having regular shifts.

We often find that many of our volunteers will pop in to say hello, even when they are not working, as they enjoy the camaraderie that comes from being part of a close group. Many of the team are related to people with autism and it's become important to all of us to support each other when times are tough and also to celebrate the successes and progress that happens too.

December saw us, for the third year running, winning the medium-size business category in the St Helier Christmas window competition. We were thrilled to also win the Judge's Choice trophy. The window was based around a poster saying 'We are like snowflakes – all different in our own beautiful ways' and featured hundreds of unique handmade paper snowflakes.

One defining characteristic of the Boutique is our ever-changing window displays, from the award-winning Christmas window to our Under the Sea window to publicise our Dip at Dawn swim to launch Awesome April 2017, and everything in between. Themes have included beach scenes, air display, festival chic, St Patrick's Day and Liberation Day, and Valentine's Day.

2016 has seen some difficult trading conditions. We concentrate on being a charity shop that is different from the traditional. We are known for stocking good quality, clean items, as well as actually looking like 'a proper shop'. We rely on the extraordinary generosity of Islanders to stock the Boutique. We have run a series of FAB (Fill A Bag) days over the last 12 months, in conjunction with businesses such as CPA Global and Barclays and places like Highlands College. If you would like to find out more about our FAB day initiative, becoming an awesome Autism Jersey Boutique volunteer, or you would like to donate your unwanted items, please do get in touch.

Treasurer's Report

This is now my fifth year as Treasurer of Autism Jersey and, like every year that preceded this one, we have seen another exciting year in which our association has grown again in every measurable aspect. The most important number for Autism Jersey will always be the hours of support we are able to provide to our members and their families.

Our focus continues to be to deliver as much support as we possibly can and to fund more of our charitable objectives through the support services we provide to families and individuals affected by autism whilst ensuring that Autism Jersey remains financially stable.

Income and Expenditure

2017 saw Autism Jersey generate a surplus of income over expenditure of £135,181 and the Board of Trustees have approved a transfer of £75,000 from the general reserves to the specific fund for the building of the Centre for Autism, taking that fund to a total of £310,000.

Total income increased by 14% this year from £1,455,482 in 2016 to £1,659,819 in 2017. We are very grateful to all those trusts, individuals and companies who have helped us by giving so generously throughout the year. Without the generosity of our donors and the determination of our fundraisers we would not be able to maintain the charity or provide the services we do to support families whilst maintaining our current autism centre. In 2017 we surpassed all expectation when we raised or received donations or fundraising contributions of £330,089 and these funds went to subsidise a lot of the services we provide direct to the community and indirectly via Health and Social Services.

Expenditure in the period has increased by 10% when compared with last year, from £1,385,712 in 2016 to £1,524,638 in 2017 as a direct consequence of the increase in support hours provided and the management and administration time required supporting that framework. An increase in wages from £1,049,176 in 2016 to £1,201,837 in 2017 is an indication of the increase in level of services provided with 54 staff members now employed by Autism Jersey.

Our financial strategy continues to be to achieve a surplus each year whilst ensuring we can continue to grow and support our charitable objectives through the extension of our services.

Our cash flow remains strong with cash held at the end of the year of £444,934 (2016: £390,590), we can and have for a number of years now been able to demonstrate financial stability and we will continue to look for opportunities to reinvest in services and programmes which support our members.

The full report and accounts for the year ended 30 April 2017 can be found on our website, www.autismjersey.org, a summary of which is included in this annual report.

Independent Reviewer's Report

We have reviewed the accounts of Autism Jersey for the year ended 30 April 2017, which comprise the statement of financial activities, statement of financial position and related notes 1 to 14, which can be viewed on the Autism Jersey website.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and reviewer

The trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view. The trustees are also responsible for ensuring that the requirements of the Association's constitution with regard to accounts and independent examination of those accounts are complied with. Our responsibility is to perform an independent review of the accounts and express a conclusion thereon. We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements (ISRE) 2400 (Revised) 'Engagements to Review Historical Financial Statements'. This standard requires us to conclude whether anything has come to our attention that causes us to believe the accounts, taken as a whole, are not prepared in all material respects in accordance with the applicable reporting framework. This standard also requires us to comply with relevant ethical requirements.

This report is made solely to the Association's trustees as a body. Our review work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Association's trustees those matters we are required to state to them in the review report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Association and the Association's trustees as a body, for our review work, for this report, or for the conclusions we have formed.

Independent Reviewer's Report

Scope of the review of the accounts

A review of accounts in accordance with ISRE 2400 (Revised) is a limited assurance engagement. The practitioner performs procedures, primarily consisting of making inquiries of trustees and others within the Association, as appropriate, and applying analytical procedures, and evaluates the evidence obtained.

The procedures performed in a review are substantially less than those performed in an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion on these accounts.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying accounts are not prepared in all material respects in accordance with the Association's stated accounting policies.

Trustees' Responsibilities

With regard to the Accounts (year end 30 April 2017)

The Trustees have elected to prepare accounts for the financial year that show a true and fair view of the state of affairs of Autism Jersey (the "Association") and of the income and expenditure of the Association in accordance with FRS 102 Section 1A.

In preparing the accounts the Trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- State whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the accounts;
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and
- Prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Association will continue in operation for the foreseeable future.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time, the financial position of the Association and enable the Trustees to ensure that the accounts comply with applicable accounting standards and the Association's constitution. The Trustees are responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Association and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The Trustees confirm the accounts comply with these requirements.
